

High island power station energy storage

Overview

In 2019, it was announced that a 316 MW battery storage system would be built at the Ravenswood Generating Station. The system would be the largest in New York state and would be built in three phases, the first of which would be complete in 2021.

Owner: LS Power
Country: United States
Location: , New York
City: Status: Operational
Overview: Ravenswood Generating Station is a 2,480 megawatt power plant in in , New York City, owned and operated by LS Power/. Originally fuelled by coal, the plant h.
