

Increase in production of energy storage products

Overview

Energy storage is the linchpin of the clean energy transition, which is reflected by the energy storage market's meteoric growth. Wood Mackenzie, a leading global provider of data for the energy sector, shows a 100% increase in 2022-23, with another 45% jump expected in 2024.

The global energy storage market is poised to hit new heights yet again in 2025. Despite policy changes and uncertainty in the world's two largest markets, the US and China, the sector continues to grow as developers push forward with larger and larger utility-scale projects. Since 2024.

The U.S. energy storage market is prepared to skyrocket within the next decade to support the clean energy transition, with analysts projecting cumulative capacity to increase by more than tenfold by the end of 2030. The Inflation Reduction Act's (IRA) tax credits for energy storage have.

— Today the Solar Energy Industries Association (SEIA) released a report that addresses the barriers to building a robust energy storage manufacturing sector in the United States, including cost competitiveness, access to raw materials, technical expertise, and the need for a large, diverse.

Grid-scale energy storage reached 3,431 MW in Q3 2024, marking an 80% year-over-year increase, while residential storage hit an all-time high of 346 MW. Texas and California led installations, reflecting a nationwide surge in adoption as the market continues to expand despite supply and policy.
