

Irish heavy industry energy storage cabinet

Overview

What is the energy storage sector like in Ireland?

Decommissioning and recycling at end of life In Ireland, the energy storage sector comprises mainly of an operational pumped hydro generation facility and c.700MW of short duration batteries providing system services, this will need to grow to c.4.5 GW by the mid 2030s.

What is Ireland's energy storage framework?

The framework recognises that the energy storage landscape is rapidly evolving. While Ireland currently relies primarily on battery storage and the Turlough Hill Power Station in County Wicklow, new technologies are emerging that could play a key role in the future.

What are Ireland's energy storage needs?

Ireland's energy storage needs was considered in terms of the energy surplus and deficits from dispatch on the transmission grid and the need to deliver 25-30% of flexible demand by 2030 which was assumed to continue post 2030.

How can the Irish government support the development of energy storage skills?

The Irish government has launched several initiatives to support the development of skills in the energy storage sector. For example, the government's Skills to Advance initiative provides funding to support upskilling and reskilling of workers in areas such as energy storage.
