Overview

The project will utilize advanced battery storage to stabilize Mongolia's two isolated grid systems through peak shifting, frequency regulation, and grid balancing. This approach will allow for greater solar power integration while ensuring consistent electricity supply.

ULAANBAATAR, MONGOLIA (30 October 2025) — The Asian Development Bank (ADB) has been engaged by the Government of Mongolia to provide transaction advisory services for the Stable Solar Energy in Mongolia Project, which aims to develop about 115 megawatts (MW) of solar photovoltaic capacity and 65 MW.

Mongolia is embarking on an ambitious journey to enhance its energy landscape through a strategic partnership with the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD). This collaboration, announced at the World Economic Forum in Davos, aims to significantly expand the country's renewable.

The partnership aims to construct 300MW of solar power facilities and 200MW of wind power plants with energy storage by 2028. The EBRD will assist Mongolia in developing renewable energy strategies and low-carbon pathways. Credit: William Barton/Shutterstock. Mongolia is collaborating with the.

The new project aims to change that by delivering reliable, affordable, and low-carbon power to some of the nation's most remote areas. "ADB is proud to support Mongolia in advancing its clean energy transition through innovative renewable energy and storage solutions," said Shannon Cowlin, ADB.
