ALBANY — The New York State Public Service Commission (Commission) today approved the retail and residential energy storage program Implementation Plan, filed by the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA). In its decision, the Commission directed NYSEDA to modify the.

Efforts towards a finalized implementation plan have been ongoing since June 2024, when Governor Hochul first announced that the PSC had approved an Energy Storage Roadmap in furtherance of the state's goal to achieve six gigawatts ("GWs") of energy storage by 2030. The PSC's subsequent 2024 Energy.

KCE NY 1, the state's first grid-scale BESS project, went into operation in 2020. As of April last year, around 396MW of BESS was in operation in New York, according to the Public Service Commission. Image: Key Capture Energy Regulators earlier this month approved a scheme to support grid-scale.

On March 21, 2025, the New York Public Service Commission (PSC) approved the draft implementation plan for the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority's (NYSERDA) bulk energy storage program—with a number of changes. 1 This bulk storage program will provide incentives for energy.

After years of regulatory proceedings and planning, and following the New York Public Service Commission (the "PSC")'s June 2024 Order Establishing Updated Energy Storage Goal and Deployment Policy (the "June 2024 Order"), New York is on the precipice of launching its redesigned bulk battery energy.

The Department of Energy's (DOE) Energy Storage Strategy and Roadmap (SRM) represents a significantly expanded strategic revision on the original ESGC 2020 Roadmap. This SRM outlines activities that implement the strategic objectives facilitating safe, beneficial and timely storage deployment;.
